Each and every person on the planet has developed a way of dealing with emotional stress. These “Coping Skills” have been developed over many lifetimes and are re-stimulated in the early life. The sign, house, rulership, and aspects to the Moon, as well as the sign and rulership of the fourth house, give us a fairly complete picture of their emotional coping skills. These skills help us “get through” life, but they do not, however, bring us a true sense of emotional well-being. Learn how to create emotional well-being in your life and help others to do the same.

Laura Nalbandian is a second-generation astrologer, teaching and practicing astrology since 1986. She is one of the premier astrology teachers in Washington and teaches on a variety of levels. Laura’s philosophy centers on the soul’s evolution through lifetimes of incarnations; that our soul chooses the complete set of circumstances to be born into in any given life. These circumstances include the date, time, location, parents and cultural system, and they provide us and the soul exactly what is needed to evolve. Each of us is the current manifestation of our soul and we have the responsibility to do the work of the soul ~ in doing so, enlivening and enriching our lives in the here and now.
